

Production, Fulfillment & Distribution Services Agreement

PRODUCTION PARTNER Detroit Decal & Apparel, LLC	CLIENT Marsh Supply
CLIENT PRINCIPALS Michael Jenkins and Vidal Marsh	EFFECTIVE DATE 9/12/2026

This Production, Fulfillment & Distribution Services Agreement (the “Agreement”) is entered into by and between Detroit Decal & Apparel, LLC (“Detroit Decal”) and Marsh Supply, operated by Michael Jenkins and Vidal Marsh (“Marsh Supply”). The parties agree as follows:

| 1. Services

- 1.1 Detroit Decal will provide printing, production, fulfillment, packing, distribution, and related operational services for the Marsh Supply coir mat program as described in this Agreement and its Schedules.
- 1.2 The covered program currently includes screen printing of 17 × 30-inch coir fiber mats, production-screen preparation and maintenance, order processing, packing, fulfillment, shipment preparation, and shipment processing through Marsh Supply’s designated ShipStation and carrier accounts.
- 1.3 Services outside the current scope may be quoted separately and will be performed only after approval by Marsh Supply whenever reasonably practicable.

| 2. Responsibilities of the Parties

- 2.1 Detroit Decal will perform the covered production and fulfillment services using commercially reasonable care and production practices appropriate to the products being produced.
- 2.2 Marsh Supply will provide and replenish all blank mats, shipping boxes, packaging materials, specialty packaging materials, and other Marsh Supply-supplied items required for the program. Marsh Supply will also be responsible for ink costs associated with its production.
- 2.3 Marsh Supply is responsible for maintaining adequate supply levels, entering incoming deliveries accurately in Production Command, and replenishing required inventory before shortages interrupt production.
- 2.4 Marsh Supply is responsible for providing accurate customer, order, shipping, product, artwork, quantity, variation, and fulfillment information. Costs or delays resulting from inaccurate or incomplete information supplied by Marsh Supply or its customers are not the responsibility of Detroit Decal.

| 3. Service Levels and Fulfillment Standards

- 3.1 Detroit Decal will process ready Marsh Supply fulfillment orders in scheduled batches every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, subject to production status, material availability, packaging availability, curing requirements, and order readiness.
- 3.2 Detroit Decal does not routinely perform production or fulfillment services on Saturdays, Sundays, or recognized holidays. Orders not ready for a scheduled batch may move to the next scheduled fulfillment day.
- 3.3 Production turnaround depends on order volume, screen readiness, artwork approval, product and material availability, required curing time, and equipment availability. Detroit Decal will make commercially reasonable efforts to maintain consistent production flow and communicate material delays affecting active orders.
- 3.4 Printed coir mats may require curing before packaging or shipment. Detroit Decal will determine when products are sufficiently cured for safe handling and shipment.

| 4. Fees and Payment

- 4.1 Pricing and payment requirements are stated in Schedule A, which is incorporated into this Agreement.
- 4.2 For each incoming shipment of blank coir mats, Marsh Supply will prepay an amount equal to the total number of incoming mats multiplied by $14.00 per mat. The $14.00 amount consists of the $12.00 per-mat production charge plus the $2.00 per-mat distribution and fulfillment charge.
- 4.3 The required prepayment must be received before the related shipment arrives at Detroit Decal. Detroit Decal may hold production if the required prepayment has not been received and may suspend production or fulfillment for unpaid amounts due under this Agreement.
- 4.4 Screen setup charges, specialty services, and other approved charges are separate from the $14.00 per-mat prepayment unless expressly stated otherwise.

| 5. Production Command Platform

- 5.1 Marsh Supply will have access to Production Command, Detroit Decal's operational backend for this program. Production Command will serve as the primary operational system of record for routine inventory, incoming delivery, payment, order-pipeline, fulfillment, and shipping visibility.
- 5.2 The operational functions and Marsh Supply responsibilities associated with Production Command are described in Schedule B, which is incorporated into this Agreement.
- 5.3 Marsh Supply is responsible for keeping its incoming delivery, tracking, and supply information current. Delays caused by unreported incoming shipments, insufficient replenishment, incomplete tracking information, or inaccurate supply records will not be treated as a service-level failure by Detroit Decal.

| 6. Shipping and Carrier Accounts

- 6.1 Marsh Supply has provided Detroit Decal with authorized access to Marsh Supply's ShipStation account and associated carrier accounts solely for processing authorized Marsh Supply shipments.
- 6.2 Shipping labels, postage, insurance, expedited shipping, address correction charges, return-to-sender charges, and other carrier-imposed fees will be charged directly to Marsh Supply's connected ShipStation or carrier accounts. These charges are not included in the $2.00 per-mat fulfillment fee and will not be advanced by Detroit Decal unless separately agreed in writing.
- 6.3 Marsh Supply is responsible for maintaining active shipping accounts, valid payment methods, sufficient account standing, and working credentials. If shipping access becomes unavailable or cannot generate labels, affected orders may be held until access is restored.
- 6.4 Once a shipment is accepted by the carrier, carrier transit times and carrier performance are outside Detroit Decal's control. Detroit Decal is not responsible for carrier delays, weather-related delays, failed delivery attempts, theft after confirmed delivery, or other events occurring after carrier acceptance.

| 7. Artwork, Screens, and Quality Standards

- 7.1 Marsh Supply will approve artwork before production. Approval constitutes acceptance of artwork layout, spelling, logo placement, general dimensions, and production configuration. Changes requested after a screen has been produced may result in an additional screen setup charge.
- 7.2 Detroit Decal may make minor production adjustments necessary to make approved artwork printable when those adjustments do not materially alter the approved design.
- 7.3 Because coir is a natural, textured material, reasonable variation may occur in fiber texture, ink coverage, print density, surface irregularities, and minor registration or print appearance. Reasonable variation inherent to screen printing on natural coir will not automatically be considered defective merchandise.
- 7.4 Material production defects attributable to Detroit Decal should be reported promptly with photographs and order details so the issue can be reviewed.

| 8. Operational Interruptions

- 8.1 Detroit Decal will make reasonable efforts to maintain the agreed operating schedule. Temporary delays caused by circumstances outside normal operational control will not constitute a breach of this Agreement, including equipment malfunction, power outage, severe weather, carrier disruption, supplier delay, material shortage, government restriction, natural disaster, labor emergency, internet or software outage, or other force majeure events.
- 8.2 Detroit Decal will communicate significant interruptions expected to materially affect active Marsh Supply orders.

| 9. Authorized Contacts and Communications

- 9.1 The parties will communicate promptly regarding issues affecting production, inventory, fulfillment, shipping, payment, or customer orders. Production Command will serve as the primary operational record for routine program activity.
- 9.2 For Detroit Decal, Nicholas Gravitt will serve as Production Personnel for day-to-day production and fulfillment coordination, and Nicole Hudy will serve as Administrative Personnel for documentation and routine account communications.
- 9.3 Marsh Supply will identify the persons authorized to approve artwork, production changes, costs, and other material operating decisions on its behalf.

| 10. Changes to Scope or Pricing

- 10.1 The pricing and operating terms in this Agreement are based on the current scope, materials, labor requirements, production process, and expected program structure. If product specifications, order volume, materials, packaging, fulfillment requirements, or production processes materially change, the parties may revise pricing or operating terms by written agreement.

| 11. Term and Termination

- 11.1 This Agreement begins on the Effective Date and remains in effect until terminated or replaced by a written agreement. Either party may terminate this Agreement upon thirty (30) days' written notice unless the parties agree otherwise in writing.
- 11.2 Outstanding production charges, fulfillment charges, approved expenses, completed work, committed production, and other amounts incurred before termination remain payable. Any prepayment already applied to incoming inventory, production allocation, completed work, screens, materials, or other non-recoverable costs will remain earned to the extent those costs or commitments have been incurred.
- 11.3 The parties will cooperate reasonably regarding open customer orders and incoming shipments at the time notice of termination is provided.

| 12. Independent Businesses

- 12.1 The parties are independent businesses. Nothing in this Agreement creates an employer-employee relationship, legal partnership, joint venture, franchise, fiduciary relationship, or agency relationship between them. References to the parties as a "partnership" describe only their commercial working relationship.

| 13. Entire Agreement; Amendments; Signatures

- 13.1 This Agreement, including Schedule A and Schedule B, constitutes the parties' current written understanding concerning the covered services and supersedes prior inconsistent operating understandings concerning the same subject matter.
- 13.2 A material modification to pricing, payment terms, responsibilities, or operating procedures must be documented in writing and acknowledged by both parties.
- 13.3 This Agreement may be signed in counterparts and by electronic or scanned signature, each of which may be treated as an original by mutual agreement of the parties.

SCHEDULE A

Pricing and Payment Terms

This Schedule A is incorporated into the Production, Fulfillment & Distribution Services Agreement between Detroit Decal & Apparel, LLC and Marsh Supply.

SERVICE	CHARGE	DESCRIPTION
Coir mat screen printing	$12.00 per mat	17 × 30-inch coir fiber mat.
Distribution and fulfillment	$2.00 per mat	Standard order handling, packing, fulfillment, and shipment preparation.
Required incoming-mat prepayment	$14.00 per incoming mat	Incoming mat quantity × $14.00. Payment due in full before the related shipment arrives at Detroit Decal.
Screen setup	$170.00 per screen	Applies to each new production screen required for approved artwork.

- A.1 Prepayment is calculated using the total number of blank mats in each incoming replenishment shipment, regardless of the number of customer orders then pending.
- A.2 Example: a shipment of 100 blank mats requires a $1,400.00 production and fulfillment prepayment before arrival.
- A.3 Marsh Supply will submit and track the applicable prepayment through the Production Command payment ledger. Payment should be associated with the corresponding incoming delivery whenever possible.
- A.4 If a shipment arrives before the required payment is received, Detroit Decal may receive or hold the shipment but is not required to begin production until payment has been received and confirmed.
- A.5 Carrier charges are billed directly to Marsh Supply through its connected ShipStation or carrier account and are not included in the $14.00 per-mat prepayment.

SCHEDULE B

Production Command & Inventory Responsibilities

Production Command is the primary backend dashboard for day-to-day coordination of the Marsh Supply program. Marsh Supply will use the platform to monitor and maintain the operational information described below.

B.1 Inventory and Supply Levels

Marsh Supply may view current inventory, supply levels, and projected incoming quantities. Marsh Supply is responsible for monitoring these levels and replenishing blank mats, boxes, packaging, and other Marsh Supply-provided supplies before shortages interrupt production.

B.2 Incoming Deliveries

When Marsh Supply orders supplies or blank mats, Marsh Supply will enter the incoming delivery into Production Command and identify the supply type, quantity, and tracking number. Entries should be made promptly so Detroit Decal's production and administrative personnel can see what is expected and track the anticipated replenishment.

B.3 Automatic Incoming Inventory

Properly entered incoming deliveries will be reflected in projected incoming inventory so available and expected supply levels remain current for production planning.

B.4 Order Pipeline

Marsh Supply may view active orders moving through the production pipeline and monitor their current stage and status.

B.5 Payment Ledger

Marsh Supply will submit and track payments associated with incoming mat prepayments, production, and other approved charges. The ledger is intended to keep incoming inventory and related production funding visible to both parties.

B.6 Fulfillment Queue

Marsh Supply may view orders awaiting or moving through fulfillment and monitor the applicable fulfillment and shipment status.

B.7 ShipStation Integration

Production Command is tied to the ShipStation workflow used for Marsh Supply shipments. Routine production, fulfillment, shipping visibility, inventory, and incoming-delivery coordination can therefore be managed from Production Command without requiring Marsh Supply to operate separate day-to-day systems for the program.

B.8 Data Responsibility

Marsh Supply is responsible for timely and accurate entry of incoming deliveries, quantities, supply types, and tracking information, and for monitoring its own replenishment obligations. Delays caused by missing or inaccurate entries, insufficient stock, or late replenishment are outside Detroit Decal's service-level responsibility.

EXECUTION
